

THE

Square

GOLF BALL

August 28 2015

Square Golf Ball Dice

The Square Golf Ball® dice. Could happen. We've never imprinted The Square Golf Ball® in this manner, although we have numbered a set of four with unique numbers, supposedly for use in putting competitions. Using The Square Golf Ball® as a dice cube would certainly work, but when rolling two dice, you would almost certainly require both hands. Or maybe go really wild and imprint 8-14 with a different letter of the alphabet using all six sides. 10 Square Golf Balls® would afford 60 different letters, with vowels and selected letters used more than once. Then roll to create the biggest word – just an idea. Or maybe just roll one at a time, and spell a real word in the fewest cubes. Roll an “A” and you’ve got a word, or “T”, etc. No same words allowed. Keep track and keep score – like in golf, the person with the lowest score at the end of however many turns you decide on, wins. The same basic idea could be used with images – a rose, a sun, a tree, etc – then play sort of like Yahtzee®. The important and interesting fact here is that you get to decide what you want on the cube faces. Sort let your imagination run wild – create a fun game idea, and let us assist by making your game pieces. You make the rules, and together, everyone has a good time. The Square Golf Ball® is patented by Bright Valley Enterprises LLC. The words “The Square Golf Ball” are trademark protected. Any infringement or copy of design or wording will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. With a novelty item as unique as The Square Golf Ball® the temptation to duplicate may be attractive. We hope everyone can enjoy The Square Golf Ball® produced in the USA. We also ask that any suspected non-authentic duplications be reported to us as soon as possible.

