The Square Golf Ball Gift Items

The Square Golf Ball will soon be available as part of several new and exciting gift items. A new link will be added to our web site to discuss and highlight these new items as they come along. Best of all – the gift items will be highly customizable – so you can continue to add your own personal message or flare. Of course, you can always simply custom imprint The Square Golf Ball itself and add it to an existing item, such as a desk pen holder set. This is one item we are strongly looking at, but to date we have not located a supplier of the base pen and pencil set unit. This typically retail for $50-$150 – which is far more than we want to have our price point at. We strive for the best possible quality, at an affordable price. So unless we have a change of heart, you won't be seeing any $100+ gift items on our web site! The Square Golf Ball continues to stand alone – unmatched, unparalleled in uniqueness and having such a high conversation starter quality. Funny how something so simple can be so powerful. Again, we invite you to return soon to check out the new Square Golf Ball gift items. We will continue to add to this list – so you'll want to bookmark the page and return from time to time to see what zany ideas we've come up with.
